ALLGORITHM Presents: "I Won't Say Anything At All" – An Online Solo Exhibition by Austin Hayman

Dates: January 7 – February 7, 2025

Los Angeles, CA – ALLGORITHM is proud to present I Won't Say Anything At All, an online solo exhibition by California-based figurative painter Austin Hayman. This month-long exhibition offers a rare glimpse into Hayman's deeply personal exploration of the quiet, unspoken moments that define our shared humanity. Running from January 7 to February 7, 2025, this virtual showcase invites viewers worldwide to engage with Hayman's evocative work from the comfort of their own spaces.

About the Artist

Born in Santa Monica and raised in the pastoral landscapes of Santa Rosa, Hayman's artistic journey is shaped by the juxtaposition of these two distinct Californian milieus. His figurative paintings celebrate the mundane yet poignant aspects of daily life, drawing from his personal experiences in the urban energy of Los Angeles and the serene charm of wine country. Hayman's ability to transform familiar, everyday scenes into profound meditations on comfort and connection has earned him recognition as a rising voice in contemporary figurative art.

About the Exhibition

I Won't Say Anything At All delves into themes of introspection, silence, and the nuanced interplay between presence and absence. Hayman's work captures fleeting, unspoken emotions with striking intimacy, offering a visual language for the moments we often struggle to articulate. Through his signature muted color palettes, layered compositions, and expressive brushwork, Hayman creates a deeply atmospheric world that feels both deeply personal and universally relatable.

Featured Works

The exhibition will showcase a curated selection of new paintings and oil paintings on wood panel and canvas, many of which are premiering for the first time. Hayman's subjects are often depicted in quiet, contemplative poses—a figure reclining on a well-worn couch, a hand resting on a windowsill, the glow of morning light filtering through a room. Each piece invites viewers to slow down and immerse themselves in the subtle beauty of these otherwise ordinary moments.
